JOHN M. MADDISON

John M. Maddison was born in Northumberland, England, January 6, 1875. He came to the United States when he was five years old. He and his family lived near Anthon, Iowa, where he grew up. He attended business college. He decided to see the West, as he had heard about Dillon through a friend and moved there in 1898. A year later he then moved to Sheridan and worked for Charles Walter for three years. By this time, he knew this was what he wanted to do, so he opened a General Store in partners with Bob Ogden in 1902. The store became known simply as the J.M. Maddison Store. Maddison never purchased the building, preferring to lease it throughout his lifetime saying “there isn't any way I'm going to pay twelve thousand dollars for something that only cost eight thousand to build.” This dissolved and John took the store by himself until his death in 1961. Under his direction, in the late 1960s, the store specialized in meat processing and became Maddison Meats. A warehouse was added to the back of the store in 1979 to handle the large volume of business that Maddison handled. He was a staunch supporter of the town of Sheridan and community members. In the book “ Progressive Years While serving as Mayor for the Town of Sheridan, he worked diligently to update the water system and create sidewalks. He was manager of the town ball team and loved to hunt. On February 14, 1920, he married Mary Woodward, who was a teacher from Butte. To this union were born three sons, Bruce, of Concord, California; Bob, who was killed in World War II, and James, who used to operate the Maddison Meat Department. During hard times, if a man could find work, he probably would need rubber boots, shoes, shirts or overalls. They would tell Mr. Maddison their troubles, and he never turned anyone away making sure there was always extra and would let the customer tally up when payday came. He also provided many jobs for the area. He would hire someone to sew clothing to sell in his store or he sold home made butter, eggs and milk from the area farmers. He loved a visit with the school children and always had time to visit with them as they stopped to and from school to warm themselves and take a fast whirl on the stools. To him the customer was always right and would go out of his way to know what was needed in the area or wanted. Many times he would open his store for some forgotten item like he did for lady who had forgotten to get cranberries for her Christmas dinner. He was the bookkeeper, clerk, and janitor, putting in long hours in order to keep the store successful. At one time you would find a group of his friends and customers stopping to have discussions about the weighty problems of the day in the best loved spot in the back of the store. People who have lived in Sheridan and have had the privilege to know the Maddison Store through the years, have the wonderful memories of the pickle barrel, the big round cheese and the whirley stools. But, I'm sure they will all agree that their most wonderful memories are of John Maddison behind the counter, smiling, with pencil poised waiting to take an order. He went out of his way to get to know the townspeople in the Ruby Valley area and it is felt the area was richer because of John Maddison. John and Mary would build their home on Mill Street where they would live out the rest of his life in the little town of Sheridan that he cared so much about.

Through the 1970s, the business changed hands several times as his son James Maddison would sublet the business and in 1978, Leland and Luceal Lewis purchased the property from Rossiter heirs. Ownership then passed to Bill and Betty Webb who operated B Bar B Market from 1979 until 1985 when they sold the property to Dennis and Corinne Jensen of Layton, Utah and now it is part of the Ruby Valley Brew still making fun memories in the town of Sheridan.
